

PrintVis® the first integrated MIS/ERP software to receive prestigious JDF certification

In December 2008 the Danish MIS/ERP software, PrintVis v. 5.01, received the prestigious certification JDF certified. This certification is only awarded to products, which have been through rigorous conformance testing against the JDF standard issued by the CIP4 organization.

“The JDF certification proves, that we are committed to making PrintVis interoperable with other JDF enabled products that our customers have” says Channel Manager Lars Strøm Valsted, and continues “we have, for some time now, had live installations with JDF/JMF signaling, so this was the natural next step for us. I am very satisfied, that we have proven our ability in this area”.

PrintVis is the only JDF certified MIS/ERP software in the world, that are able to cover all the business processes of a company in the graphical arts industry from estimation to delivery, and at the same time include all the functionality of the world’s most used ERP product, Microsoft Dynamics NAV.

Earlier this year PrintVis was awarded another prestigious certification, Certified for Microsoft Dynamics NAV as the only MIS/ERP product in the printing world.

Lars Strøm Valsted says “when a customer chooses PrintVis, he will get a state of the art MIS system with all the features he needs in order to run his graphical arts business. But because PrintVis is a part of Microsoft Dynamics NAV, he will also get a world or other features, like G/L, Accounts Payable/Receivable, Inventory, HR, Payroll, Electronic Banking, CRM, Supply Chain Management and a seamless integration to a large part of the Microsoft solution stack, that are present in Microsoft Dynamics NAV, the world’s most widespread ERP system with more than one million daily users. This type of integrated product, with these certifications, we are the only ones who can deliver”.
